Mapleton, OR: As many residents of town already know, the Mapleton branch of Siuslaw Bank remains closed while repairs are being made to the inside and outside of the building. As the branch continues to be updated, all Mapleton accounts are being served at the bank's Florence office.

During the repair process, all of Siuslaw Bank's Mapleton staff is working out of Florence.

Bank management is working diligently to pick materials what will weather any future storms that the area may have, said Siuslaw Bank President Lonnie Iholts. "We have assessed the damage made to the building and contents. We are now working on the repair process, which is taking some time to make sure everything we do is well-executed and thought out, especially when it comes to protecting customer assets."

While the latest flood did not damage any customer items including contents in safe deposit boxes, it is important to design a structure and pick materials that keep everything safe.
